FOREWORD

We came with unbound hope and unlimited ambition, we who would shape tomorrow . . . the world.

Adjustments came quickly for some, slowly for others, but we soon merged with the Huntington family and became Vikings. Many invested their time and energy wisely amid the rays of education, while others missed their marks and lingered amid the shadows.

Knowing not how we shall be judged, we leave these days of the bittersweet happiness of class and homework, the overwhelming joy of winning our games, the tension in receiving report cards and the casual chit-chat among our classmates.

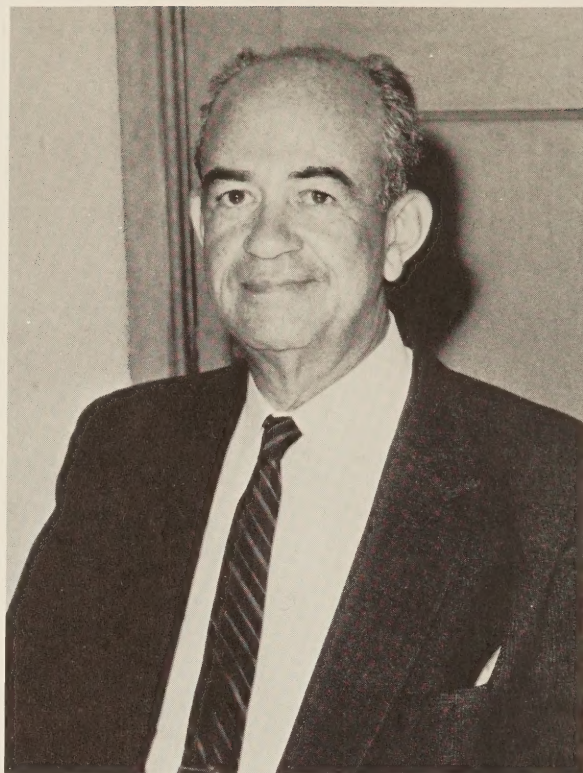

These things, among countless others, are MOMENTS TO REMEMBER from our high school years.

We take great pride in dedicating our 1963 Huntingtonian to one who has long since deserved the honor. Now in his twentieth year as principal here at Huntington, Mr. W. D. Scales has worked zealously for the continued progress of the school and to no end to make Huntington one of the most outstanding schools in Virginia. A devoted educator, civic leader, and father, he has given unselfishly of his time to help students here and away from Huntington.

Assuming his career at Huntington with a faculty of twenty eight, he has seen the school expand to eighteen hundred students and eighty five teachers in addition to the art and business departments, the clinic and the auditorium.

THE PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Members of the class of 1963:

It is a high honor to extend you greetings on your graduation day. This event signals an achievement that merits the commendation -- well done.

You stand on the threshold of the most challenging period in the history of man. Accomplishments undreamed of but a decade ago have now become commonplace. The plans and purposes of your life must be significantly related to the present program of widespread change that characterize our modern world. Each of you must wisely assess your potentials and establish some goal to give your life meaning and direction. Determine to make the sacrifice that success demands. It is becoming increasingly more apparent that positions of responsibility and trust are by-products of merit.

Since wars, hot and cold, have been your inheritance and crises your lot since birth, it will be your responsibility to find the answer. The peoples of the world can and should be free. You must be in the vanguard of those who seek to secure and maintain such freedom and justice as this land of ours can vouchsafe unto all its citizens. Those who labor and sacrifice for these blessings will ultimately arrive at the understanding among men without which there can be no lasting peace.

While ages with their labels come and go, I would that you remember that there are, and always will be some eternal verities to guide your footsteps. Be a seeker after truth -- the high, fundamental, everlasting truth, the truth that transcends evil thoughts and deeds, that truth which alone can make us really free, the truth that is pleasing to HIM WHO is THE AUTHOR of all truths.

Huntington will always be your school. The members of your staff who so fondly bid you adieu today will warmly greet you on tomorrow. We have not finished with each other. Our council will be yours until your development makes our feeble guidance no longer necessary.

OUR ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL

Now in his second year as Assistant Principal at Huntington High, Mr. C. C. Johnson has worked diligently with the students to help them adjust to the environment at Huntington. Students who have gone astray will testify to his never-ending patience and understanding. He has encouraged many students to follow the right path, and they have become outstanding citizens in our community.

Our bookkeeper, Mrs. L. Kea, has the responsibility of keeping all records of the receipts and expenditures for the school. All school money passes through her hands, and she records all figures in the account books which in turn are audited by the city auditors. "An indispensable lady!" we would say.

SECRETARY TO THE PRINCIPAL

Mrs. V. Newby, our efficient school secretary, works closely with the principal in carrying out her many responsibilities. Answering the telephone, recording grades, signing sick and tardy excuses, giving helpful advice to students, checking monthly reports, and making school-wide announcements are just a few of the countless jobs that Mrs. Newby must perform.

THE CLERK

In addition to keeping up with the academic records of the students and our alumni, Mrs. Seabron releases the absentee list to the faculty members after mimeographing and compiling them.

Mrs. E. M. Green, one of the assistant principals and the Dean of Girls, has many duties to perform. One of them is assisting in the administration of college preparatory and scholarship examinations. She is seen above welcoming Mr. Walter J. Hawkins who is to administer the Howard University examination to qualified seniors. Mr. Hawkins is the Director of Counseling Services of Foreign Students at Howard University, Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Green has done much to assist the students here at Huntington by helping them with any problems that might confront them. She also takes time out from her busy routine to discuss any plans which students might have for the future, and often she sums up the discussion with helpful advice and encouragement. Her patience, interest and keen insight have assured each student that he is free to take advantage of her counseling at any time.

THE SCHOOL NURSE

Our school nurse, Mrs. Holloway is always near to help with any emergency. Here she is checking Brenda Parker for throat infection.

NEW ADDITIONS

PHILANTHROPIST COMMEMORATED

As you enter the halls of Huntington, you will see a picture of Collis Potter Huntington, the man for whom our alma mater was so proudly named. On Oct. 23, 1962, the Mayor of Newport News, His Honor Donald Hyatt, and the Superintendent of Public Schools for the city of Newport News, Dr. R. O. Nelson, presented our principal, Mr. W. D. Scales, with a portrait of this great industrial pioneer.

WE REMEMBER

... THE EIGHTH GRADE

Having looked forward to this phase of our education for the past year, we excitedly enrolled in Huntington High and were classified as eighth graders. We anticipated attending our first football game as authentic Vikings with great excitement. Our minds were focused on the gaiety, excitement, and glory that would be ours; not on the adjustments to our environment which would inevitably come also.

We found some of our school work difficult, some fun, and other work, we thought, was just plain easy.

Some of us have done well this year, others not so well; but we all will do much better next year. It will be different then, for we have realized the great challenge which confronts us.

. . . THE NINTH GRADE

Well, we made it the first year of high school, which wasn't really hard at all. We became better acquainted with school regulations and acquired some helpful tips on getting along as high school students. Some of us commenced to establish a position in extra-curricular activities. Others concentrated on the further development of their scholastic achievements. As freshmen we were also responsible for the Thanksgiving assemblies, and we think they were both successful. In fact, we believe the entire year was a success!

Health and physical fitness are stressed as well as good scholarship. Above Mrs. Jennins is leading one of her physical education classes in exercises.

Under the instruction of Mrs. Dawkins, these girls, who may become seamstresses, are learning to cut patterns.

. . . THE TENTH GRADE

This was the most frustrating year of our high school career. We did not know whether to act sophisticated as the upperclassmen or naive as the underclassmen.

English, biology, world geography, algebra, these were the formidable courses that challenged our intellect and broadened our interests.

This was the year of emotional confusion and instability for most of us. As sophomores, we were told to improve scholastically because we were at the crossroads of our high school career. Our advisors said that actions become habits and that this year was the time to develop mature behavior. Truly, some of us heeded the advice and some didn't. Some of us even began to realize that the canvas of ourselves was being filled with the medley of facts and opinions, questions and answers that would shape our destiny.

... THE ELEVENTH GRADE

And then we were approaching our terminal year. Most of us had developed our potentialities and personalities. Many of us held offices in the various school organizations.

We started planning our careers, selecting college preparatory courses and taking elimination examinations.

It seemed incredible to us that we could ever take the places of our senior predecessors.

STUDENT COUNCIL

This organization is the hub of all student activities in the school. Its main objectives are to create the proper climate for good school citizenship, to furnish training and experience necessary for the development of good school citizens, to pull out and develop the leadership potentials of the students, and to show a positive relationship between good school citizens today and good community citizens tomorrow; good school leaders today and good community leaders tomorrow.

The Executive Board of the Student Council is composed of the officers and the chairmen of the committees. It is a leadership training class in reality and its purpose is to give students the training needed to carry on the work of the Council. Students who are interested and who show leadership potential are urged to join this leadership training class.

Sponsoring the Student Council for the past ten years, Miss M. W. Smith has aided the development of many student leaders, many of whom have become outstanding leaders at various colleges and universities.

THE HONOR SOCIETIES

. . . and gladly did they learn

Our Senior National Honor Society attempts to create an enthusiasm for scholarship and a desire for leadership and good character in students of Huntington High School. Chosen in their junior year, these students represent those who have maintained a high scholastic average.

In a similar manner the Junior Honor Society strives to promote an interest in scholarship in the eighth and ninth grade levels. Students in this organization have a scholastic average of B or above.

THE NEW HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

The Huntingtonian salutes the members of the New Homemakers of America for their successful attempt in developing a better understanding of the family and contributing to its well-being, for interpreting the value of home economics as a basic part of our total education, and for promoting good will among neighbors at home and abroad.

Clothing classes play an integral part in the educational development of girls here at Huntington.

The Math Club is constantly increasing in size. New members above and below are seen just before a club meeting.

THE MIRROR STAFF

The Mirror Staff, the information center of Huntington, brings together students possessing outstanding journalistic techniques and literary talents. It provides a means for students to learn the entricate techniques of journalism, to display outstanding literary talents of students, and to inform the school of the achievements of students, outstanding events and school needs.

Miss Hayes, the Mirror Staff sponsor, has worked diligently collecting school news to be placed in our school paper, the Mirror.

THE HOBBY CLUB

The members of the Hobby Club enjoy different types of avocations. Some pursue photography as a hobby; others, ceramics; still others enjoy wood-work. In addition to providing fun, the club provides opportunities for the students to make their hobbies practical. Those members interested in photography serve the school newspaper by heading the photography staff. Many of the young men whose interest lie in the area of electronics work as apprentices to electricians in the community.

Under the leadership of Mr. Ralph McGhee, the members of the club are given many opportunities to develop skills that are related to their hobbies.

FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA

Today's students are tomorrow's business leaders. This thought is the incentive for the Future Business Leaders of America and is uppermost in the minds of the members. The Huntingtonian salutes the F.B.L.A. for their untiring efforts in building business leaders of tomorrow.

The students at Huntington are proud of the Charles R. Drew chapter of the Future Teachers of America Club. The club offers potential teachers appropriate experiences to help them develop readiness for college programs of teacher education. The F.T.A. also helps future teachers acquire an understanding of the history and development of our public schools, their purposes and objectives, and an appreciation the contribution they have made to our democratic, free society.

LE CERCLE FRANÇAIS

The French Club has as its major purpose the enrichment of the study of French by providing opportunities for many enjoyable features of language study. Pupils hear and sing songs, participate in skits, study customs of the French, hear native speakers of the language who give lectures to the group, and prepare French menus. The meetings are conducted entirely in French.

LA SOCIEDAD LATINO-AMERICANA

The Spanish Club is composed of students who wish to cultivate a broad conception of the historical and cultural background of the Spanish people. Members of the club frequently tutor students who have difficulty in learning the Spanish language.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Fortune, the group fosters many field trips to places of scientific interest.

SCIENCE CLUB OFFICERS

William Taylor, Roosevelt Ziegler, and Gloria Williams are busy mapping out the agenda for the year, as Robinetta Ellis, Sherrelle East and Edwina Fauntleroy investigate the possibilities of a project involving the use of the microscope.

THE CULTURE CLUBS

Now in its second year at Huntington, the Culture Club was organized by Mr. B. McLeod to raise the cultural standards of the students. Due to the fact that the club was newly formed last year, it did not attract many members, but this year the club has grown considerably and has attracted many boys and girls who are interested in self improvement.

THE SOCIAL STUDIES CLUB

In today's complex society sound fundamental ideas in government and the other social sciences must be developed on the part of students at an early age. Opening its doors of membership to Huntington students from the eighth through the twelfth grades, the Social Studies Club strives to instill within its members a strong civic responsibility by keeping abreast of current situations throughout the world. Students are shown the value of spending their time wisely in terms of thinking about the world as a whole. In an effort to share its ideals with the entire student body, the club sponsors the United Nations Day assembly, and the annual trip to the Nation's Capitol and Skyline Drive in alternate years.

Club officers and sponsor, Mr. W. Hooker, make plans for the U. N. Assembly. They are: D. Person, W. Taylor, R. Bowser, J. Anderson, M. Christian, (STANDING) Mr. Hooker, S. Bailey, J. Stith, R. Ellis.

state festivals. The Huntington choir is one of the finest a cappella choirs in Virginia. The fine performances are a result of early morning and late evening rehearsals . . . nothing daunts the spirits of the choir members who bring home honors year after year.

The Huntington High School Band, under the direction of Mr. W. R. Herring, is composed of ninety members. Besides performing during half-time at football games, the band plays at school assemblies and at concerts and other activities. With the exception of a few, these members make up the Symphonic Band which performs at about two concerts a year. These concerts are often joint with the choir performing with the band. The band also participates in the State wide music festival and ends its performance in June with the Commencement exercises.

COLLEGE COMES TO HIGH SCHOOL

This is only one of the three courses offering college credit here at Huntington High School.

Dissection of the earthworm is on the agenda for the advanced biology class, a college credit course in its first year at Huntington. The students, under the surveillance of Miss I. B. Perry, are engaged in many other class activities, such as the construction of microscopic organisms.

Mrs. R. Collins strives to satisfy the educational needs of the students in this advanced English class. Their daily performance in recognizing and meeting in-class and out-of-class challenges in reading, writing, speaking, and listening are constant aims.

SPECIAL EDUCATION

A program under the guidance of Mr. L. Milo, the special education class at Huntington High School is designed for the education of the slow learner whose needs cannot be adequately met in regular classes. It recognizes the fact that the goals of education for these pupils must be in keeping with their capacities, limitations and interests. On the secondary level the emphasis is on training for participation in the occupational world.

This class seeks to develop the individual as a well integrated personality and a good citizen and to discover his strengths and weaknesses.

After several years of training in this class, it is hoped that the student will accept himself as he is and will contribute to his community in a manner which is creditable to his capacity.

Peter Jackson, LaVerne Herring, Wendell Braxton, Reva Bowser, Jacqueline Harris, and Sarah Jenkins are demonstrating the value of linguistic machinery in the mastery of Spanish.

To aid in this task, Miss L. K. Frazier conducts the class in Spanish.

A VAN GOGH OR A REMBRANT

Sometimes it is difficult for students to decipher an abstract painting, so they ask their teacher, Mr. A. Lewis, for his interpretation.

On the foreword page is a picture of our other art teacher, Mrs. M. Mann, awakening the artistic talents which latently lie within her ninth grade students.

PUBLIC SPEECH

Ronald Simms and Linda Edwards serve as conductors for the day as the members of Mr. W. B. Thomas' speech class recite a choral reading selection. Students in this class are primarily concerned with becoming good public speakers, learning the techniques of oral interpretation, and improving their diction.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Boys in the industrial arts department waste no time in becoming adept in manual skills, for they realize that here is an opportunity to prepare themselves to fit into situations which might mean the difference between a job and unemployment.

Under the close supervision of Mr. J. Baker, George White (holding lamp) and Julius Brown check the manual for parts, as William Griffin (on floor) and Edward Speight go about their responsibilities.

Brick masonry requires a strong back and a sharp eye -- this students in Mr. J. T. Brown's masonry class demonstrate.

ELEMENTARY TYPING CLASS

Mr. Royster keeps his typing students in orbit by having them do finger exercises on the typewriter. Truly, what the students learn in this class has its advantages over the hunt-'n-peck system.

NOT FOR MEN ONLY

Mr. W. Jones' mechanical drawing class has an added attraction: a young lady. Alice Green proves to William Dixon, Melvin Phillips, Alvester Dent, Marshall Dorsey, and Clarence Hunt that girls can fit into practically any situation and that this is no longer a man's world.

ACTIVITIES

FOOTBALL

Football provides a common bond of unity, something to look forward to early in the fall and something that lingers in our minds until school closes. The football-inspired spirit that appears in September tends to echo into other activities and continue throughout the entire year, almost with equal force. Upheld as an important tradition here at Huntington, the game is the core of the Homecoming festivities. Alumni return to witness the various activities and greet classmates from years gone by. Although the Viking squad was defeated several times this year, the team never lost sight of the rules of good sportsmanship that had been instilled within them by Coach Madden and his assistants.

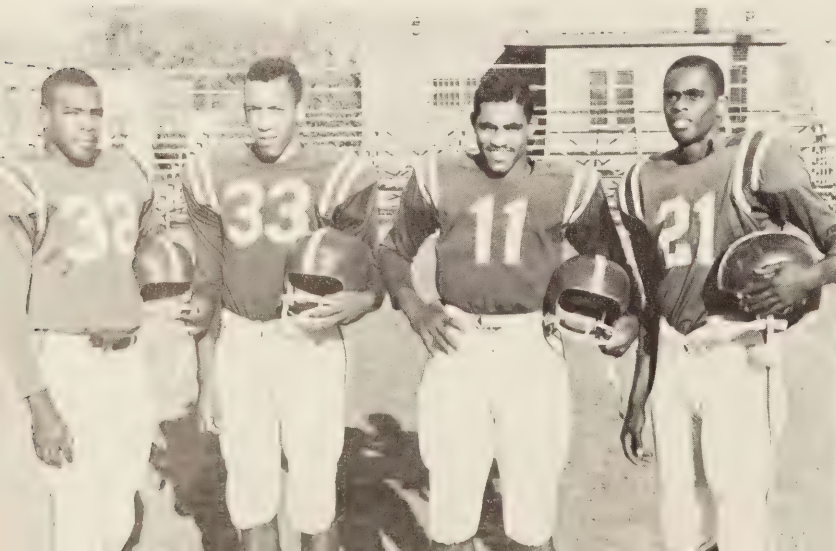

THE 1962-

THE 1962-63 football team set a precedent in Viking football history. The team chose tri-captains to lead them to their victories and their defeats. Shown are captains Raymond Crittenden, Herman Byrd, coach Madden and Bernard Scott.

MISS HOMECOMING

Surrounded by her attendants, Judith Banks, Earlene Harvey and Carolyn Winstead, Mary Whitaker, is crowned Miss Homecoming for 1962-63 by Mr. Scales. Miss Whitaker is a senior and a recipient of the Crisco Award. Because of her fondness for children, she aspires to be an elementary school teacher. She is very active in the Mathematics Club and Student Council. Among Miss Whitaker's hobbies are cooking, dancing, and reading.

Having raised the greatest amount of money for the Student Council, Norma Watkins, a member of the junior class, was selected as Miss Viking for the present year.

Miss Viking's attendants are: Jamal Covington, a junior, Evelyn Brown, a sophomore, and Yvonne McKeller, also a sophomore.

The Battle of the Undefeated Teams

Huntington vs. Maggie Walker

The Vikings and the Dragons came into their fourth game undefeated and both with VIA championship aspirations.

We opened the game with great command on a drive that covered some fifty yards deep into Walker territory. The defenses of Walker stiffened and forced the Vikings to attempt an unsuccessful field goal. Walker obtained possession of the ball and found it difficult to utilize its explosive ground gain against the stout Viking defense. Consequently, our opponents took to an air attack. Three key passes by Walker's fine quarterback, G. Carter, gave Walker the lead throughout the entire game. The Viking tally came on a 40 yard run by junior, fullback John Thomas.

Shown in the picture to the left is the fullback, Napoleon Lee, a member of the senior class, squirming through Maggie Walker's defense for a substantial gain early in the first quarter.

As the band plays the "Loyalty Song," the Vikings are led through the victory arch by Thaddeus Madden, Jr., mascot and son of our coach, who is followed by the captains and other high-spirited players.

and fast blocking of James Jones, a junior.

The Big Inter-City Rivalry

In the words of Coach Thad Madden, "This game is the big one." His word proved to be true, for after suffering our first defeat to Maggie Walker of Richmond, Va., the Vikings were a little sluggish in the first quarter. In the presence of a capacity crowd, Carver took full advantage of this situation. The flashy quarterbacks, Leroy Keyes, Earl Bullock, and Don Futrell, monopolized the ball for three full quarters, and it was not until the last quarter and its fleeting minutes that the Vikings regained their composure. At this time Edward Marks, a junior, tossed a short pass to the end, Shelley Rambeau, who scampered 70 yards for the tally.

The final gun sounded and the Trojans were the victors for the second consecutive year. Their victory created a tie in the inter-city series at four games apiece.

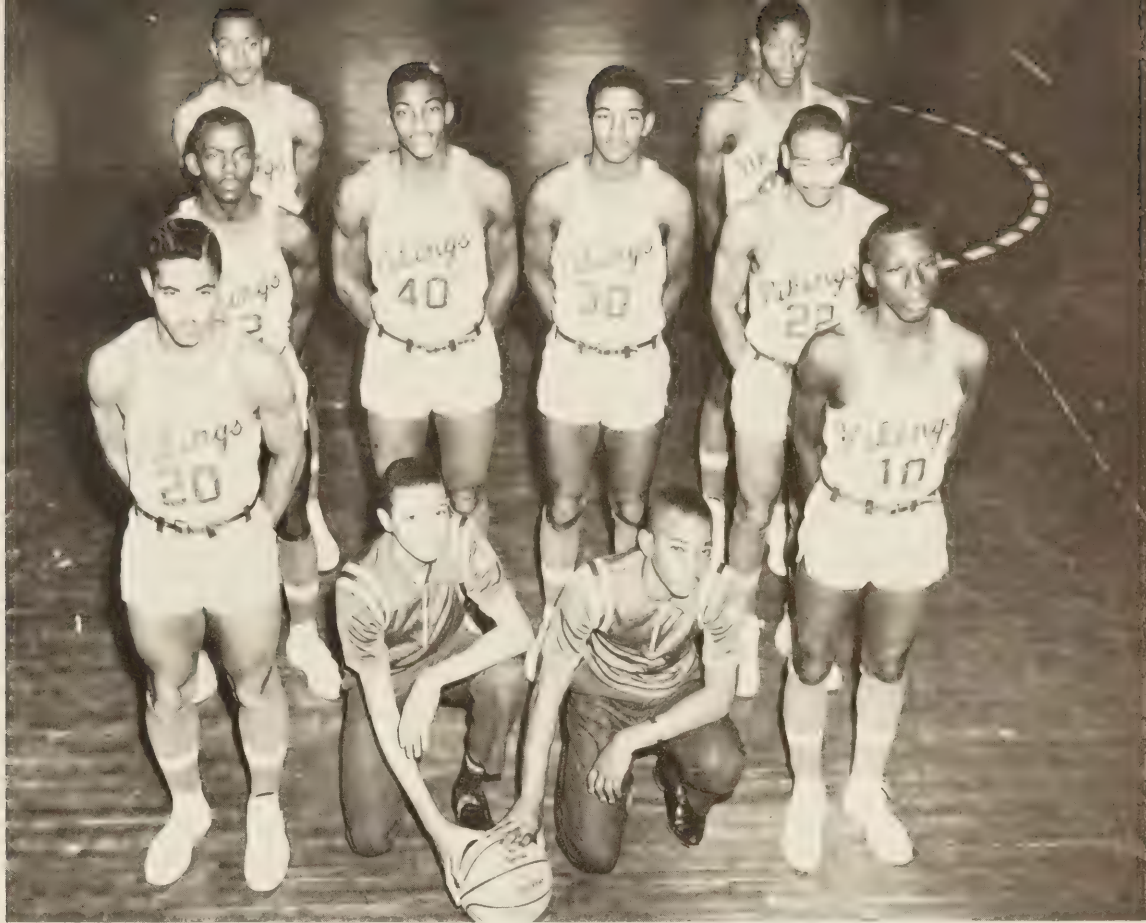

As Viking fans filed out of the stadium, the only consolation lay in the facts that our boys had put up a good battle and that there would be another year.

Now in their second year as performers, the members of the Viking-nette squad pause momentarily from their Homecoming practice to pose for our roving photographer as Kenneth Travis and William Wilkins gaze down from their pedestal on high.

Very much like the cheering squad (extreme bottom) the Viking-nettes must be nimble and quick.

McKinley Price, an aspiring basketball player, learns from Ed Marks, a 6'3" high-point man, that the key to success on the court is height.

Ray Crittenden drives in for two points early in the second quarter. It was such superb tactics as the fast break and hop-out-side shooting that helped lead the Vikings to victory over Phenix.

Every eye is focused on the rubber sphere as Ed Marks leaps high into the air to win the tip-off.

James Davis, an outstanding guard, fires a jump shot from the key while tense players from Huntington and Phenix stand in anxious anticipation of the rebound.

Ball-hawking James Davis (21) demonstrates his fantastic ability of ball control by stealing a loose ball while lying on the floor and tossing a pass to Joe Brown, all in one motion.

MEDLEY RELAY QUARTET

The smooth, efficient Medley Relay quartet depends upon constant practice to eliminate any flaws that might hamper the teamwork. The lead-off leg is run by Raymond Pollard (extreme right), who turned in a sparkling 49.6 for the quarter-mile last season. Supporting him are James Melvin, who was hampered with mid-season injuries but is expected to return to form, Eric McCaskell, a newcomer to the relay team but extremely swift, and anchor man, Melvin Williams, holder of the schools half-mile mark.

THE SPRINTERS

Four crack Viking dashmen pace through wind-sprints to increase stamina. Under the fine tutelage of Coach T.S. Madden and Coach W. R. Kane, the Viking outfit was in tip-top condition all track season. The above foursome were mainstays on the squad; each placed consistently in the sprint races. They are (left to right) Frank Gingles, Raymond Pollard, James Melvin and Charles Ellerbee.

Top Viking pointers, (L to R) Raymond Pollard, Melvin Williams and Eric McCaskill were constant winners throughout the year. The point system is based on 5 points for first place, 3 for second and 1 point for third. Pollard amassed the bulk of his points in the 100 yard dash, 220 yd. dash, and the broad jump. Williams placed in the 880 yd. run and the mile run and McCaskill in the 120 yd. high hurdles and the 180 low hurdles.

It takes well developed coordination, a great deal of concentration, and many years to get acquainted with the discus. Sneed is ready to bear down and show well in State Competition this year.

ROOKIES OF

Much of the success that the Viking track team has encountered is due to the fact that the squad is usually comprised of fine proven stars along with many rookie aspirants. This always gives them a surplus of talent to choose from. These thinclads

Descending from a long line of fine hurdlers is Charles Robinson, youngest of the hurdlers. From such fine hurdlers as Eric McCaskill, Ray Crittenden, Charles Ellerbee, he can pick up many valuable pointers and develop into one of the finest hurdlers of our school.

Strength and endurance are the qualities of a good shot put. On the squad this year we have just that man; he is Bernard "Hully Gully" Thornton. Although Thornton is a rookie on the track team, he is anticipating high honors in this event.

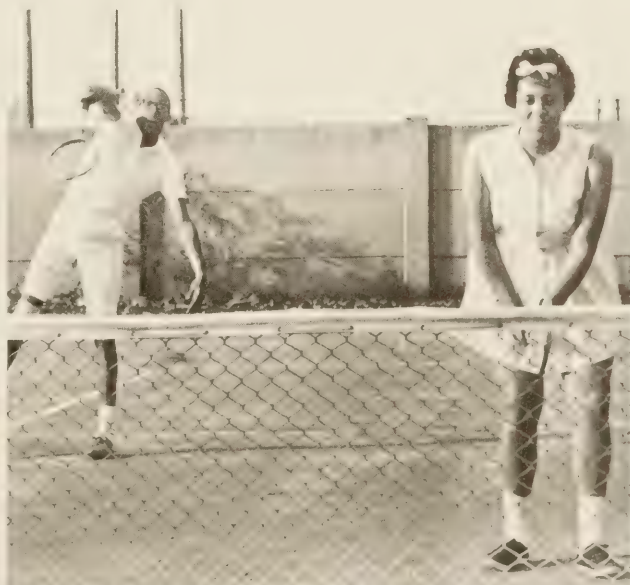

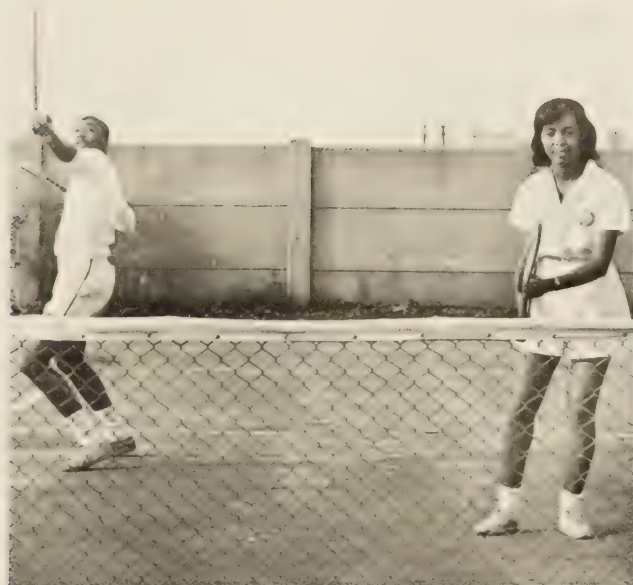

Rose Franklin and Joyce Anderson are two seniors of whom we are indeed proud. Last year they won the Inter-scholastic Doubles Tennis Championship in Greensboro, North Carolina. They will try to retain that title this year.

After the Opera

In the above picture the students pause momentarily the day after attending the opera, "La Traviata" presented at Hampton Institute. This trip was the kick-off project of the Student Council, whose program this year is centered around raising the cultural level of the students at Huntington.

That Time of Year

Lowell Middleton and Ruth Moore are in the Christmas spirit, for they are in the process of participating in the art department's annual project -- decorating the school. These beautiful decorations serve to remind us of the true meaning of Christmas.

... AND SHE BROUGHT FORTH A SON

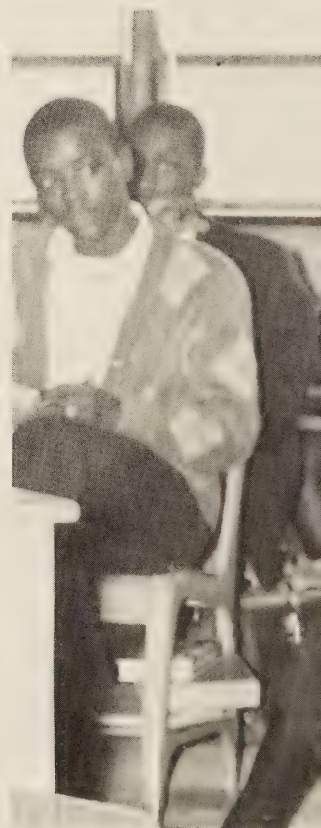

"The true meaning of Christmas" was the title of the Christmas program this year presented by the tenth grade. The above picture portraying the birth of Christ is a scene from the annual program. After the Yuletide message had been delivered, baskets of food and toys were brought to the stage. Suzanne Browne and Herbert Foreman were Mary and Joseph, and Bruce Atkins, Kenneth Travis (both kneeling) and James Thomas served as shepherds.

Participants in the Family Worship scene (below) were Daniel Davis, Father; Christine Spratley, Javonne Ricks, Claude Williams, and Doris Moody, children; with Barbara Trent as Mother.

Miss K. Leach speaks at the FTA assembly.

ADVANCED BIOLOGY

Not only do we remember the magic moments of sports, socials, and assemblies, but also the earthworm. We never dreamed that the earthworm had such bright colors in it until we took biology.

Perhaps some of us will become skilled veterinarians -- that is if anyone has a sick earthworm.

BEST LEADER

Ethel Lewis has demonstrated her leadership ability by serving as the President of the Student Council.

S E N I O R

BEST LEADER and MOST TYPICAL HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT

William Taylor, an outstanding leader in his class, displays his ability by offering his assistance to Vertania Price, the most typical high school student.

S U P E R L A T I V E S

BEST DRESSED

Evelyn Burrell and Bobby Oglesby check each other's attire for neatness, for they must live up to the title of "Best Dressed."

MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED

To really know if Carol Fortune and Lee Roy Wilkins will succeed would necessitate our expressing best wishes to them and waiting for the future to materialize.

MOST POPULAR

Mary Whitaker, our Miss Homecoming, and James Everett are undoubtedly the most well-liked in the class. Here they engage in a bit of autograph exchanging.

MOST AMBITIOUS

Betty Savage and Eddie Holden have their minds set on the future, and they know that one must work consistently to get ahead in the world.

MOST FRIENDLY AND MOST COURTEOUS

Pretty smiles and good manners are characteristic of Violet Williams and Edward Dearing.

MOST ATHLETIC

Rose Franklin and Herman Byrd share the title of "the most athletic," for they have proved themselves in tennis and football, respectively.

BEST ACTOR AND ACTRESS

James Hainesworth and Cecil West aspire to step into the shoes of the Barrymores. James has frequently demonstrated his talent through his oral interpretation of "the Creation." Cecil has on many occasions shown her acting ability. She had a leading role in last year's spring play.

MOST COMICAL

"BOO!!"

BEST DANCERS

"The Twist," "Continental," and "Bossa Nova" are elementary steps to Reva Bowser and James Evans who view a disc for the next dance.

THE TIMES HERALD

A thing of beauty is a joy for ever:
Its loveliness increases; it will never Pass into nothingness; but still will keep
A bower quiet for us, and a sleep
Full of sweet dreams, and health, and quiet breathing.

-- John Keats' "Endymion"
